FINDING FREEDOM

What does freedom look like to you? In GraceLaced, Ruth Chou Simons lists examples such as running unhindered, viewing a mountaintop overlook and enjoying iced tea with lemon. Because our good, creative God made us each different, our descriptions of freedom vary too. I think of deep breaths, an unhurried pace, genuine smiles, lack of regrets and deep belly laughs.

I love to laugh. Recently, during a demanding season of family celebrations, hardships and surprises, I realized I was laughing less. I felt bound to the next task on my long to-do list, but even good efficiency can shackle our spirits.

A good laugh — beyond a quick chuckle — offers many physical and emotional benefits. According to the Mayo Clinic, laughter relieves stress and pain, boosts the immune system and stimulates organs and endorphins. So today I'm determined to laugh loudly and joyfully while remembering my freedom in Christ.

PASTOR'S PONDERINGS

Lesson 2: Learning to Ride a Bike

There are other lessons to be learned from learning to ride a bike other than to “keep peddling!” Again, my memory goes back a few years running alongside my daughter and pushing her until she peddled. I was holding her up, keeping her as erect as I could.

My second bike lesson to her was those familiar words, “Keep your balance! Keep your balance!” She instinctively made that task more difficult by suddenly throwing her weight to one side or the other when she thought she was going to fall over. She sensed she had to do something, but being a neophyte biker overcompensated, went to extremes, and thus lost the very balance she was trying to keep.

We all need to learn to keep our own balance in life’s journey. One way we do that is by keeping our head up and our eyes straightly focused on those things that really count. The writer of Proverbs, for example, encourages us to look for wisdom, to search for understanding and for knowledge of God. When we focus on something of great worth like that, then we have a better chance of keeping our emotional and spiritual balance. But, beckoning to us from the side of the road, or if we start turning around on our seat to look behind us at what we’ve missed, and what might have been, then we are bound to lose balance and crash.

We also keep our balance by not overreacting. Most of life is not a crisis, although it often feels like it is. When our child cries in the night, or our spouse expresses anger at us, our body begins to ache, we tend to respond with anxiety. These events alarm us, and we respond with alarm. What is more healthy and appropriate for us to do is to respond to these events as alerting signals, as signals alerting us to the fact that a particular response is needed to relieve a particular stress. When we respond to events as if they are alarming crises rather than as alerting signals, then we overreact. We bounce to the extremes, take drastic action, lose our balance, and often cause others to lose their balance too. “Keep your balance!”

Introducing Reverend Bill Warhover—Pastoral Candidate

The first things to know about Bill is that he is married to Donna and they live in Mt Vernon, IA. Bill and Donna have three children, Matt, Erin, and Martha who all live in the St Louis area. One of the greatest joys for Bill and Donna are their 7 grandchildren, Ian, Adienn, Sage, Quinn, Mavis, Roxie, and Blythe.

Bill is a second career pastor. He was working as Director of Youth and Family Ministries in a large Presbyterian church in Crestwood, MO before going to seminary at the University of Dubuque Theological Seminary. On graduating Bill has served both rural and urban churches in Eastern Iowa as called pastor and interim/transitional pastor. Bill recently finished ten years with Hospice of Mercy in Cedar Rapids where he worked as a hospice chaplain. Prior to ministry Bill worked selling industrial woodworking machinery and doing service work on conveyor belts.

Bill and Donna own and operate Morning Glory which is both a vegetable farm and an event venue just south of Mt Vernon. Besides growing and selling vegetables they work to maintain connections and provide opportunities for meaningful work with clients from Goodwill of the Heartland. Bill and Donna support various feeding agencies including Southeast Linn Community Center in Mt Vernon.

GOAL: $5,657

Dear Streif Family,

Thank you for choosing me for the Dale L Streif Scholarship award this year! I really appreciate it as I will be using the money to pay for my last year of school at the University of Iowa! First Presbyterian Church has helped me all four years, and I am super grateful!
—Caden Reinke

The church treasurer has sent in our full per capita payment of $5,657.30, although we have received only 43.9% to date.

If you are an active member and have not submitted $40.70, please do so as soon as possible.

Thanks to everyone committed to a healthy and vital Presbyterian Church!

As we continue on the journey of finding a called pastor, we pray that pastoral candidates that consider First Presbyterian Church of Monticello are able to get a good rest from the mental, emotional, and spiritual toll that this process takes. We pray that candidates are able to observe and pay special attention to the critical pieces that will guide them towards God's will. We pray that candidates ask good questions to learn important information about our congregation. We pray that candidates' thoughts and conversations with their families be guided by God. We pray that candidates and their families take comfort in knowing that God has a plan for them. We pray for our church at-large as their is a shortage of pastors available for the work in the harvest fields. We pray that God's will be for our pastor candidates and any congregations involved. Amen.

Turn Your Platform into an Altar

Having a platform — or an avenue to communicate with lots of people — can be useful to share important messages, as long as we don't focus on our number of followers and pageviews. A platform also may tempt us to think we're the gift being offered; instead, I like to picture an altar. It's a place of offering and humility, where we give sacrificially through the reach God provides.

Use these reminders to view your platform as an altar:

- Strive to obey and trust God, who calls and strengthens you.
- Be a good steward of God's gifts and messages, caring for the people you're reaching.
- Avoid comparisons with others, looking to God alone for validation and approval.

Through Abraham's willingness to surrender his only son, the Old Testament patriarch modeled how a platform can become an altar. So did Jesus, the sinless Lamb of God, who became the ultimate sacrifice to pay our debt. As his New Testament followers, it's our privilege to invite others into this paradoxical kingdom, to give of ourselves as a living sacrifice.
